

NEW AUTO ROADS OPEN TO CAPE MAY RESORT

President Harding Expected to Visit Famous
New Jersey Bathing Beach—Social Activities Begin Early This Year

Cape May, N. J., June 15.—Summer activities in this resort have been opened with a vim beyond expectations. This is due to the fact that a new life has been taken on by the opening of more roads and the improvement of those already here, which have long been a part of the resort.

Everywhere there is a spirit of life which bespeaks a new social whirl this season which promises to make Cape May the social capital of the Atlantic coast. The stage colony is larger than it has been for years, as many new villas have been built last winter, and the opening of those, together with those already here, makes a big gain in the resort's population.

For the first time Cape May will be a summer resort. Its excellently paved streets and fine system of State roads are never in finer condition. The city, as a part of its road system, has paved, at a cost of about $1,000,000, roads in this section, and these are free to the resort. The roads are paved along its ocean front, and its famous boulevard, which runs along the edge of the ocean, with nothing between the ocean and the highway but the low boardwalk, which is constructed that pedestrians or cars on the boulevard have a free view while spinning along the beach. With five miles of road in the country and the connecting arteries to sister resorts, Cape May is the ideal summer home.

Country and Ocean Meet
Visitors will note another advantage over all other New Jersey resorts, except those north of Long Branch, as Cape May has a combination of country and seashore. Its location being upon the mainland, and not on a sandy beach, surrounded by salt creeks and edge lands, it has excellent foliage and shade trees of immense size which grow on the fast black land within but a few hundred feet of the ocean. Every avenue is lined on both sides with fine foliage, and a stiff breeze coming from the ocean helps to make it comfortable in warm seasons far beyond description. Coupled with this is the finest bathing beach in the world, so much so that Trouville, in France, is called the Cape May of that sister land. The bathing here is not regulated by the time nor and there members of the Corinthian and Cape May clubs fraternized as much as the war activities would permit. The municipal authorities have again provided free music for the summer in the Convention Hall on the beach front. The full band season will begin from July 3 to Labor Day, but smaller orchestras will furnish music for the dances there on Saturday next, and after Labor Day the bands membership will be reduced, but there will be music until about October 1. The music appropriation was increased for this extended season. Gustavus Blenk will lead the orchestra.

Hotel Cape May Improved
The Hotel Cape May, which has been closed since 1916, and which during the war period was United States General Hospital No. 11, will be reopened this season. It will be under the management of the Knott Bros., prominent hoteliers in New York and Florida and one of whose firm is David H. Knott, sheriff of New York City. The hotel has been repaired, removed and improved. The hotel cost $1,000,000, and is the largest and largest on the coast south of Atlantic City. It will again be the headquarters of such organizations as the Pennsylvania Bar Association, the Pennsylvania Bankers' Association, and other gatherings which meet there before the war.

After being closed for nine years Congress Hall will be reopened June 25, under the management of John V. Scott, of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. The hotel was remodeled, refurnished and modernized at a cost of about $300,000 in 1920, and really had its formal public opening last September, when Mayor Moore, ex-Governor Stokes, of New Jersey, and other notables took part in the public function.

Golf Club in Fine Shape
The Cape May Golf Club, founded twenty-five years ago by such men as the late John C. Bullitt, and now under the care of Richard Campion as president, is in excellent shape. The head of its greens committee, Dr. Charles N. Davis, of Philadelphia, has been here all spring looking after its condition. The course is in fine trim. The bunkers, putting greens, hazards and other maneuvering points are the best it has had in years.

Yacht Club to Reopen
After being closed three seasons the Corinthian Yacht Club on the edge of the Cape May Harbor, with an expanse of five hundred acres, is again to be the stopping place of yachtsmen. The World War caused it to be closed, as the club was the executive headquarters for the Naval Reserve Station here. Commodore R. Walter Star, and Dr. Richard Davis and other leaders in the club are arranging for many social events in the way of dinners, dances and races. Vice Commodore J. Wallace Hallowell, who has taken a cottage for the season, is house chairman, and is arranging to have the clubhouse ready for next Saturday. The yacht Tech, Jr., of Col. T. Coleman du Pont, of Wilmington, will be here most of the season, as the Colonel passes a large portion of his vacation here.

The Cape May Yacht Club, at the head of the harbor, at old Schellenger's Landing, is also in operation, and its members are meeting there over weekends. It was open during the war period.

when about five thousand persons attended.
Housed Four Presidents
The famous old hotel has been the home of four Presidents and other distinguished Americans. Franklin Pierce came in 1856, the last summer of his term, and in 1859 President James Buchanan was a patron there; in 1874 and 1875 President Grant lived there. All his Cabinet were here, and many Cabinet meetings were conducted in the summer period. When President Benjamin Harrison lived in the Summer White House at Cape May Point, Congress Hall was the executive office, and the high bluff of land overlooking the sea, it is a most comfortable summer home.

ISLAND HEIGHTS—N. J.
WHERE THE BAY AND RIVER MEET

A Family Resort With Pleasures Aplenty
Not far from Philadelphia and long noted for its healthful air laden with the odors of the pines. Its fortunate location where Toms River meets Barnegat Bay lays it open to cooling breeze from whatever point the wind blows. The people that live here and come here to "summer" are people of refinement and cordiality. Its "atmosphere" is restful and refreshing without the artificial gaudiness and glare of other places. Here you have all public conveniences—gas, electric lights, sewers, pure, cold artesian water, etc.

Excellent harbor for yachting with public docks open to every one without restriction. The Island Heights Yacht Club is the finest in Barnegat Bay.
Rowing and fishing in Toms River for the young folks; deep water fishing in Barnegat Bay for their elders.
Delightful woodland rambles and fascinating drives.
Music by the band of the John Wanamaker Commercial Institute, which has its usual military encampment here from July to September.
Fresh vegetables, butter and eggs from nearby farms every morning.
Bungalows, cottages and hotels which cater particularly to families of refinement. If you're looking for a place that will "brace you up" physically and mentally, come here, but make your reservations now.
